10. Stewart, W.
11. Mason.

Two vacancies to be appointed.

Glee Club.

The Glee Club, which gave successful performances both in Auburn and Opelika, will again be organized, after the Christmas holidays, under the direction of last year's manager, Mr. W. M. Riggs. The club hopes to give several entertainments in Auburn and neighboring cities, the last if necessary after the close of the session.

Officers for the coming year, and new members will be elected by last year's members. It is expected to double the membership, and as there is abundant talent this session, candidates will not be hard to find.

Of the male quartette of last year, three have returned, the fourth man is, as yet, a matter of speculation. The club's work will be along three lines; instrumental, embracing mandolin, banjo and guitar, etc., burnt cork features, and concert proper. It is hoped that a night can be secured during commencement week for one of the performances. In view of the fact that nothing connected with college life is more pleasant and profitable than membership in this organization, all students should do their best to qualify themselves for membership.

Prof. O. D. Smith will deliver the next lecture in the college chapel.

North Carolina's Games.

The foot ball season in the South was opened by the above named team, in a series of four games.

The first of these was played with the University of Ga., in Atlanta, Oct. 26th, resulting in favor of N. C., by a score of 6 to 0. The game, as viewed from the side-lines, was slow and uninteresting, being characterized by no brilliant runs or good interferences. The two teams were very evenly matched, in fact Georgia's team showed up to somewhat better advantage.

In tackling the Georgians went lower and harder, than did their opponents; and their line defence was superior.

Carolina's single touch-down was made on a forward pass and by foul interference.

The next game Carolina figured in was against Vanderbilt on the 28.

Here again the Tar-heels were victorious, winning by a score of 12 to 0.

It seems that the Tennesseans could not stop the hard rushes of the Carolinians, who went through their line repeatedly for gains.

On the 30th, they again lined-up, this time against Sewanee.

The result of this game was quite a surprise, the score standing, 0-0.

To Carolina's crippled condition, is largely attributable the good showing that Sewanee made.

It seems that Athens, not satisfied with the result of Saturday's game, and Carolina chagrined at not having rolled up a large score, they mutually agreed to set their minds at rest by another trial. This took place on the 31 and resulted, again in Athens defeat, by a score of 10 to 6.

Hardly at any time during the game was the ball in Athens possession, and N. C., kept it constantly in their territory. Since Auburn will meet the teams that N. C., has played up to date, and having some idea of the kind of game that she plays, we can, in a way, size up our chances. But foot-ball presents almost as diversified results as base ball, therefore it is impossible to predict with any degree of certainty what the results will be.

Harvard's freshman class is larger by forty-seven than last year's entering class, having an enrollment of four hundred and sixty-five.

Dots About Other Colleges.

Vanderbilt should and has shown a very strong team this year. She has eight old men back.

Connell, last year's full back, is captain and Upton, an end on last year's U. P. team, is coaching them.

So far they have played the following games:

Vanderbilt 0—M. S. U.—14.
" 10—Center—0.
" 0—N. Carolina—12.
SEWANEE.

Sewanee is coached this season by Reynolds, an old Princeton man. He arrived about Oct. 15 and immediately took charge.

Blacklock was again chosen as the man to lead Sewanee hosts. This is his third year at quarter and his second as captain.

He is a hard worker and is collecting around him a strong team.

Sewanee 0. N. Carolina 0.
U. OF ALA.

Our old rival at Tuscaloosa is keeping as quiet as a mouse this fall. She is hard at work and we do not doubt but that she will turn out a good strong team when the time comes.

They are being put into condition by Abbott, their gymnasium instructor. Pratt, who played center when we first met them and guard last year, is captain.

U. OF GA.

The boys at Georgia are again hard at work, under the captaincy of full back Stubbs. Warner, captain and guard of last year's Cornell team, is coaching them.

They play a good, hard game and any one who meets them will have a hard job to stop the fierce rushes they make and at the same time they have worked up a very strong defense.

In the game against N. Carolina they outplayed the Tar Heels and but for a fluke the score should have been nothing and nothing instead of 6 to 0 in favor of Carolina.

Nolley, center for last five years, is playing left half back. Prince and Kent, guards of '94, have been moved out to tackles. They both play a strong game. The team averages 168 lbs.

Mr. Cullars informs us that the gymnasium will be completed within three weeks.

Our Coming Games.

November has at last arrived and with it comes our four games. Games all of them with colleges by whom we were beaten last. Boys! Remember this.

Remember that we CAN and MUST win this season!

Our first is with Vanderbilt in Nashville on Nov. 9.

Our next is with Sewanee on the following Saturday. This game is to be played here on the campus.

Not a cadet or citizen of Auburn should fail to be present. Not a single person whose sympathy is with Auburn should fail to be well bedecked with orange and blue. Show to our visitors by your colors that you are loyal and let them know it by the cheering on the side-lines. If you do not pull for your college, how can you expect the Varsity to put forth its greatest efforts?

Boys! It will never do to be beaten on our own campus, and by Sewanee too.

Our next is on the following Saturday, Nov. 23, in Tuscaloosa. As many of the boys as can should accompany the team on this trip. The more we have the more at home we'll feel. So all of you, who can afford, the trip, should by all means go.

Our last game comes on Nov. 28th Thanksgiving, day and is with the U. of Ga., in Atlanta.

This will be our biggest game. To win from Georgia means, not only the championship of Georgia but of S. Carolina also.

This is the game of the season and we should have a host of followers to cheer us on to victory.

The fare for the round trip will be less than three dollars and at this low rate we should take with us every cadet in college. Every man ought to feel that he can't afford to miss it. Think about going to this game and begin to make your arrangements for it.

Let every cadet who possibly can, get permission from his parents, so that he may go.

We must take a big crowd from here.

Never since our first game with Georgia, in 1892 have we been allowed to take a crowd to Atlanta with us. Now we may. Will we? That remains with you. What will you do?

The Orange and Blue makes its best bow.

This is our second season and we sincerely trust that it may be as successful as the past one.

"Promises, like pie-crusts etc.," so we will not burden you, dear reader, with too much pastry; however we assure you that every effort will be made to make the paper a success.

The running of a paper, especially a college paper, is no easy task, so we would beg at the outset that our friends and fellow-students will encourage us in every way, and so cooperate as to make the Orange and Blue a credit to our Institution.

Every man in college should take a personal interest in the paper; it is the exponent of his ideas.

College spirit, alone, demands this. Contribute something, by all means your subscription.

We wish to thank our friends who have advertised with us in the past, and beg to assure them that all future favors will be highly appreciated.

Just a few more days and our football season will be upon us! Varsity, our fate is in your hands.

Let every man appreciate this and prepare for the coming struggles.

The success of a foot-ball season, to a great extent, depends upon the enthusiasm displayed by the body of students, both on the campus and field of contest. So by all means let us awaken a dormant college spirit and throw some enthusiasm into ourselves.

Come out and cheer the workers!

We also wish the ladies of the town to come out in the afternoons. What an impetus to hard playing and diligent work is the encouragement and applause of fair coaches!

Our two literary societies have made excellent starts for the coming year, however the support, in proportion to the number of students is not so good as it should be. We sincerely trust that the students will recognize the advantages of such training and lose no time in joining the organizations.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Websterian Literary Society—Attendance Large, Outlook Bright.

The first meeting of the Websterian literary society was held on Saturday, 15th of September. No debate was held, and the time was consumed in talks by old members, election of officers, and initiation of new members. The officers for the month are: Alford, President; Byrum, Vice-President; and Griffin, Secretary.

Each meeting has been well attended and great interest and enthusiasm has been manifested by both old and new members. Surely an era of prosperity has dawned upon the old Web. society, and if the signs fail not, this will be the most successful year in the history of the society. We have received twenty new members, which have increased our ranks considerably, and fifty names are on the roll as regular members.

Some of the best talent displayed in the society is found among the new men.

The society elected Webb and Mangum to represent us on Thanksgiving, and we expect some good things from them. Both have spoken in the sophomore contests and they displayed much ability.

The Alabama Chautauqua Association which meets at Talladega every summer has arranged for an inter-collegiate Oratorical Contest. The colleges represented at the last contest were Howard, Southern University and ours. No man will be appointed to fill this important place who is not a member of one of the societies. It is therefore very important that every man should join one of the societies, in order that the strongest man for the place may be selected. Mr. H. H. Peevey, an old Web. won in the contest last year and was awarded a handsome gold medal.

Wirt Literary Society.

The Wirt society held its first meeting on Saturday evening, the 16th of September. No regular debate was held and the time was consumed in discussing matters of interest to the society. Election of officers took place and resulted as follows: Tate, President; Slaton, Vice-President and McIntyre, Secretary. Three better men could not have been chosen, as they all have the welfare of their society at heart. Messrs. McLaren and Scarbrough were duly elected members of the society at this meeting. The society readily saw the need of a nice carpet and a committee was appointed to superintend the purchase. It is hoped that in a few days we will be equal to the Websterians in every particular.

Although we have had few debates during the present session, the meetings have been largely attended and some splendid men have joined the society. The society has been steadily increasing in numbers and interest since the opening of college, and twenty men have united with it since the first meeting.

A debate was held on the 21st, of September and the following subject discussed: "Resolved that a classical education is preferable to a scientific education." The question was closely contested by both sides, but through the splendid effort of Mr. Feagin, the subject was decided in favor of the negative.

On Oct. 5th, we were treated to several nice speeches. Messrs. Scarbrough and Hudson had been previously appointed declaimers and the walls of the old Wirt fairly shook with eloquence. Others also made speeches, which made the meeting one of unusual interest.

The society chose speakers to represent it for Thanksgiving on the 12th of October. Slaton and Connor were to uphold the banner of the Wirts. In them, the society will be well represented, for both are orators of no mean ability. They were both on the speakers list from the sophomore class last year and the society acted wisely in selecting them.

Much credit is due the members of the Wirt society. They started with very few men, and by energy and perseverance have placed the society in a position to do a good years work.

Our Coach.

In J. W. Heisman we have secured a jewel of the first water. He is just the man we were looking for and if we had searched the country over again we could not have done better.

He is a perfect gentleman and has won himself into the hearts of all the boys, as well as members of the faculty, by his hard, earnest, conscientious work.

He is always ready, be it night or day, to work for the success of the team. He is certainly doing his work well and he is the best coach we have ever had.

Let the boys obey him in all points and I am sure his reputation (of never coaching a losing team) will be fully sustained.

Let us all from now until Thanksgiving day rally to the assistance of the coach and all will be well in the end.

Athletics.

Since the Tuesday before college opened our team has been practicing every afternoon and yet until a few days ago there had not been a college yell given by the students watching the game.

This is a very lamentable fact.

It shows that the boys do not take the proper interest in the work of the team and that they have not the proper college spirit.

They seem to think the 'Varsity and scrubs should do all the work and that there is nothing for them to do.

In this we are wrong.

Every man in college should have the interest of the team so at heart that, if he can't give his brawn and muscle for the development of the 'Varsity, he can at least come out and be seen upon the side lines giving exercise to his lungs in encouraging the players.

There is nothing more discouraging to a man than to know that he is working for a cause in which his work is not appreciated.

Of course we all know that you take an interest in the work of the team and all want to win; but the question is, Does your past action show any appreciation of the work being done by team?

Do the side lines resemble the days when Dorsey was captain? Do you wish your college to win? If so, do your duty! Come out. Organize a lung brigade and let us hear it yelling and encouraging the men every afternoon.

Then you will be doing your part and it remains for the 'Varsity to do the rest.

Won't you come out?

Now a word to the scrubs.

We know the pathway of a scrub is not an easy one to tread, and it is the scrub who shows the greatest amount of college spirit. It is to you that the 'varsity owes all its victories.

Without you they can do nothing. They improve only as you improve. They grow stronger only as you make them work harder.

On you then falls the success of the 'Varsity.

You have in the main been very faithful and while sometimes quite light you have shown admirable courage and bravery in your work.

Remember that now only a few more days are before us. You have done well in the past, but do not grow weary in well doing. Continue to be prompt and faithful. Then when the season of '95 is numbered in the past, and if victory should perch on our banner, you may have the proud feeling of knowing that it was against you that they molded their interference into perfection, and that you have done your part, and share alike in the victories with the 'Varsity.

There is another thing for the scrub to remember—that from the scrubs of one year comes the 'Varsity of the next.

It is the same old tale of the crowning of the faithful. So while you are working for their benefit, remember that every effort you are making is doubly appreciated by the 'Varsity and that they are looking to you to uphold the records of the college in the future.

LOCALS AND PERSONALS.

Mr. Elmer Gray of Columbus Ga., has returned to college to complete his course.

Miss Lidie Lane is visiting friends in Virginia. She is greatly missed by her many friends and admirers.

Our faculty has granted us three days in which to view the exposition, provided we get permission from home.

Mr R. H. Adams '95 made a short visit to Auburn last week. It was a great pleasure to his many friends to again shake hands with Bob.

J. A. Wills spent the summer with relatives in Virginia. He has returned to college to take a post graduate course.

We are pleased to note that Mr. Erister Ashcraft of Opelika, is again with us. He will take the Junior Chemical Course.

We hope that all who can will arrange to include Thanksgiving in their furlough, that we may attend the Athens-Auburn game en masse.

Our new commandant, Lt. Hollis is very popular with both the faculty and cadets. He and his family occupy the McKissick residence on Magnolia St.

We have had unusually good order this year, and it seems as if all the cadets are doing earnest work. It is to be hoped that this will continue throughout the year.

H. W. Taylor class '95 has returned to college to continue the study of chemistry. Mr. Taylor stood unusually well in his classes last year and we predict great success for him.

Tuscaloosa and Athens will lineup in Athens, Saturday. Tuscaloosa will no doubt make a creditable showing; though she will probably be a little off in weight.

What will be the result?

Mr. J. W. Heisman has already proved himself to be the most efficient coach we have ever had, and is about to knock into our heads, that we know nothing of the game. Brace up boys, do your best and all will be well.

Cadets Christian and Morrisette returned to college last Friday, having spent the last month in Atlanta, where they held positions on the jury of awards of the exposition. They report having had a grand time in spite of their hard work.

Bob Foy '94 our invincible right tackle of '93 is playing fine ball on the U. S. M. A. eleven. In the game with Trinity College he made some very brilliant plays, making three touch downs. He has our heartiest congratulations on his success and best wishes for his future.

Most of the new cadets have received their uniforms, and we are beginning to look like a military college, especially as every drill evening the battalion is to be seen going through various military manoeuvres on the campus, greatly to the delight of "Co. K."

Mr. F. E. Harvey one of our last year's guards has returned to college and his presence on the foot-ball field looks quite natural to all the old men. Harvey is a valuable acquisition to the foot-ball team and we are all glad to see him back, and look for good work by him in the games.

The second lecture of the series was delivered by Dr. Petrie last Friday evening, his subject, the Atlanta Exposition, was one particularly interesting to the cadets, and the attendance was unusually large. The lecture will be a great help to those who expect to attend the exposition, and very interesting to those who will be unable to go.

That we are to have a drum corps is a sure thing. Ten drums and two fifes have been ordered, and as there is a great deal of musical talent in college this year, it is certain to be a great success. The drum corps will add greatly to the military department of the college, and much credit is due Col. Hollis for the hard work he has done in getting it up. There are many applicants for membership, but the musicians have not been selected yet.

Tennis.

It is much to be regretted that we have only one good court in college. We should have several more.

Why haven't we?

But considering the fact, of being handicapped by the lack of courts, there is a great deal of interest taken in tennis this year.

With the opening of college came the formation of a tennis club and it is to be hoped that the members will do all in their power to develop the game here.

The officers and members of the club are: Col. M. O. Hollis, Pres., Dr. Geo. Petrie, Vice-Pres., O. J. Semmes, Treas., Prof. Duncan, W. T. Warren, J. T. Mangum, H. H. Smith, F. T. Jackson, C. N. Jones.

Young Men's Christian Association.

The Young Men's Christian Association began its present year's work with the following as executive committee: Pollard, President; Beeson, W. J. Vice-President; Slayton, Treasurer; King, G. D. Recording Secretary; and McBryde Corresponding Secretary. The first meeting was held on Sunday, Sept. 14th, and was led by W. J. Beeson, from Matthew 6:33: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." The meeting was largely attended, and the talk was especially interesting and instructive.

Prof. Thach addressed the next meeting and chose his subject from Hebrew 12:1-2: "Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith." Prof. Thach showed very impressively why we should not be ashamed of our religious convictions, for surely most of our great men have stood as living examples of the truth of the Christian religion.

The meeting on the 28th was well attended. The talk was very much enjoyed by all and was given by Dr. C. H. Ross on the following subject: "The Higher Wisdom." He chose as the basis of his talk the thirteenth chapter of first Corinthians. Mental education is indeed desirable and should be sought but in the end would be worthless without this higher wisdom of which he spoke.

Messrs. Eckford and Slaton led the next meeting with beneficial talks on Christian work and the advantage of living consistent Christian lives. This was one of the deepest spiritual meetings held up to that time. Mr. Eckford urged that if true to our religious principles, our work for the Master will reap an abundant harvest. Mr. Slaton impressed us with the fact that precept without example is worth little, but that our lives must be consistent if we would influence others for good.

The next meeting was led by President Pollard, who spoke to the Christian men especially on the importance of preparing themselves for the approaching meeting to be conducted by Mr. Sayford. Several men made short talks, urging prayer, Bible study and work. Prof. Ross spoke of the power of prayer and the need of following up a revival meeting by especial work.

THE SAYFORD MEETING.

On the 18th of October a series of meetings were begun by Messrs. Sayford, Cookman and Willis. Previous to their coming a twelve days' prayer service was held. These services increased largely in numbers toward the close and were, no doubt, a great impetus to the revival. Mr. Sayford was the principal speaker at all the meetings.

"Mr. Sayford has been enlisted in evangelistic work almost entirely among the college students of this country for the past seven years, and his success has been wonderful. A graduate of Amherst College, he is a person of fine and pleasing address, a speaker of peculiar and persuasive power, and a man of deep consecration and of thorough understanding as to the needs of young men. His sermons were plain and to the point, but full of fire and earnestness. Nearly all of the meetings were largely attended, and from the very first great interest was manifested by many of the students. The exact figures cannot be given as to the number of students converted, but it must have been not far from twenty, while forty or fifty expressed a desire to become Christians. The meetings closed on Tuesday night."

Alumni Notes—Class '95.

R. H. Adams is principal of a flourishing school at Brundidge, Ala. George P. Bondurant has charge of the Mathematical and English Departments of the North Alabama Agricultural School at Athens.

LeVert Coleman, who left college just before commencement, is at the U. S. M. A., West Point, N. Y., Fourth Class. From reports he is bearing with meekness and lowliness the burdens imposed by the upper classmen, ever remembering that in a few short months another "plebe" class is to enter. LeVert led his course here and will uphold the reputation of the college.

S. L. Coleman, 1st honor man of the chemical course, is assistant in chemistry at Auburn, and is prosecuting an M. S. Course.

H. H. Kyser, of Talladega, who graduated with honor, is assistant in the Mechanic Art Laboratory, and will take E. and M. E. "Sport" is a popular boy.

W. C. McMillan is in business with his father, J. B. McMillan & Co., Talladega, Ala. "They say" that Mc will soon fulfill the prophecy of last year by taking unto him a better half. '95 sends congratulations.

James Newson, of LaGrange, Ga., an honor man of the Electrical Course, is in the employ of an electrical firm at No. 13 West 22nd street, N. Y. city.

H. H. Peevey is assistant in Drawing at the College. Last summer he won a handsome gold medal at the Alabama Chautauqua by coming out winner in the InterCollegiate Oratorical contest. This being the first contest of the kind held in the state, Auburn is unusually proud of her victory. Peevey is Assistant Manager of the football team this year. He will take M. S.

H. H. Smith (No. 2.) is Assistant in English at Auburn, and is pursuing a course for M. S. As yet he is undecided as to playing football and sharing in our coming victories. His hair is still long.

J. C. Thomason, first honor man of the electrical course, is Assistant in Mathematics at Auburn, and will take E. & M. E.

W. S. Askew is merchandising in Texas.

B. B. Haralson, H. Bickerstaff and Chas. Linn are engaged in electrical work at the Atlanta Exposition.

Walter R. Shafer is taking a graduate course, leading to M. S. He is captain and guard on the football team.

Concerning the Pan-Hellenic Congress in Atlanta.

To the Greek Letter Men of the United States—Greeting:

In view of the fact that hundreds of graduates and under-graduates, who are members of the different college fraternities, will visit Atlanta during the Cotton States and International Exposition, it has been decided by the local members, to arrange for a grand Pan-Hellenic Congress and Greek Letter Day at the Exposition.

At a meeting of the Atlanta contingency, the 18th day of November was selected as the most suitable date for a Greek conclave.

About the general programme, the following features of attractions have been agreed upon: In the morning from 10 to 1 o'clock will be the Congress in the Auditorium at the Exposition grounds, speeches will be delivered by some of our most eloquent orators, and papers will be read by those who have given special study to fraternity issues and the general subject of Pan-Hellenism; in the afternoon, from 3 o'clock to 5, there will be a great football game between the two leading teams of the South at that time; in the evening, from 7:30 to 10:30, there will be a Greek play at 10:30 begins the grand banquet, where at least eight hundred loyal Greeks will sit down to a royal feast. All patriotic Greeks are most cordially invited to attend, and also to co-operate in the final perfection of this scheme for the promotion of good-fellowship among the members of the various college fraternities. Those who expect to accept this invitation are requested to send in their names and addresses as soon as possible, together with the sum of $3.00, which is the amount necessary to cover the costs of the banquet. All remittances must be made to Mr. Henry W. Grady, 36 Ponce de Leon avenue, Atlanta, Ga.
